Project Coordinator: Liz Fritz

Business Development: Brad Pryor

Createk is proud to work with some of the country's best zoos and aquariums - including SeaWorld, Busch Gardens, Mystic Aquarium and Lagoon Parks - to produce the most stunning and realistic zoological habitats aside from Mother Nature herself. For land animals, we build naturalistic terrains complete with our realistic CREATEK trees, plants, rocks and caves. For our aquatic friends, we create majestic water-themed displays, rocky rivers, tidal pools and saltwater reefs. We even design and build the fanciful signs, displays and architectural enhancements that adorn the park grounds.

Imagine an oak tree embedded with one-way mirrors that provide a glimpse at nesting zoo animals. A group of giant cacti surrounding a watery desert oasis. A coral-covered sunken ship that serves as a home for tropical sea creatures. If you can dream it, we can create it!

Made of our patented composite resin, Createk's zoo and aquarium products are ultra-realistic and have many advantages over the real thing. All of our CREATEK products are sunlight and UV stable, and will not fade, stain, chip or break after extended exposure to the elements. Our rock and water features (including artificial water, snow and ice) resist buildup to algae and other organic growth, and will not leach lime or display calcium buildup. With our fire retardant option, CREATEK products conform to ASTM E84 Class 1 Rating for fire safety. In addition, since the color is infused throughout the entire material, CREATEK never needs to be touched up or painted if chipped or scratched.

From underwater paradises to outdoor turf and terrain, Createk can help you realize your project with amazing realism and artistry. We can either design a project based on your vision, or work with your designers and architects to satisfy your exact specifications. From concept development to installation, Createk is driven to provide you and your customers with the most realistic, attractive and exciting zoological habitats imaginable.

Director, Business Development (Europe): Domingo Escutia

D3D Cinema is a Chicago-based company that offers complete digital 3D cinema solutions and services to museum and attraction industry clients worldwide. We offer a fresh and unique partnership approach to cinema design and 3D content production, a value proposition built around four core capabilities.

-Theater Design & Installation

-Touring Exhibition Theaters

-Award-winning Library of 3D Film Content

-Signature Film Production

D3D is the only company in the rapidly emerging digital 3D market that operates in both the exhibition and production domains. Our key competitive advantage lies in the fact that we can leverage our existing 3D film library and extensive 3D production experience in a way that no other company can. As such, D3D not only provides its clients with a seamless, "one-stop shop" solution to their film exhibition and programming needs, but can, by bundling both hardware and software, provide digital 3D theater system pricing that none of our competitors - all exclusively hardware providers - can match.

We understand the critical needs and desires of our museum and attraction clients and have developed a pioneering, collaborative approach to 3D cinema integration project financing and 3D documentary production.

DGM Books, LLC publishes custom children's books for zoos, aquariums, and other organizations. Working directly with the marketing department of a given institution, we tailor the content of each book to feature their most popular exhibits and attractions in a fun and educational way.

The books are aimed at 4 to 8 year-olds and can be published in a variety of formats: paperback, board book, ebook and apps for mobile devices and tablet computers. These site specific books combine original photographs, unique stories and text, plus an illustrated character (7 year old Abigail) who acts as a guide through each zoo or aquarium. These books are a great way to reach young consumers, including school groups. They can be sold in gift shops and incorporated into a broader marketing effort as promotional items.

Our entertainment design experts coordinate the design and integration of intricate support systems for rides, shows and aquatic life exhibits, ensuring a total sensory experience for guests. Our diverse portfolio encompasses spectacle venues, theme parks, zoos, aquariums, animal-based attractions, museums, and highly-themed facilities. This extensive entertainment experience has provided us with detailed knowledge about what to expect from a scope and deliverable standpoint, adding tremendous value to the Owner by making coordination seamless. We've become experts in designing for extreme conditions and in coordinating several types of ride control systems, show control systems, and aquatic life support systems (ALSS). We understand the unique aspects of each of these projects. Knowing the key components and design philosophies of many different types of projects allows us to streamline delivery, ask questions, and coordinate systems when other design team members may not even be thinking of a particular item.

At Max-R, we manufacture sustainable indoor/outdoor furnishings made of maintenance-free 97% pure recycled plastic – milk jugs! In fact, we've reclaimed over 67 million milk jugs since our company was founded in 1997 and we've set out to save 100 million by 2014. Beyond its environmental benefits, pure recycled Max-R lumber™ is an innovative alternative to wood since it doesn't rot, split or become food for termites, never needs painting and comes in 100 different color combinations.

We specialize in building waste & recycling bins tailored to specific waste streams and aesthetics. On average, each

Max-R recycling station reclaims 1000 milk jugs in its manufacture and countless more in our other site furnishings including benches, planters, message centers and much more.

Our products are manufactured using 100% renewable energy as an EPA Green Power Partner. This renewable energy purchase avoids the carbon emission equivalent of taking 100 cars off the road – a year! Additionally, our plant is designated as a Certified Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary by the Audubon International, for our conservation efforts and environmental stewardship. Ask about our zoo & aquarium subsidy program aimed at giving back to the organizations that continue to give so much to families and their communities.

NP Training Works is proud to be the eLearning development partner of the Association of Zoos and Aquariums.

The NP Training Works team understands that Zoos and Aquariums staff are stretched further every day. We know how it feels to try to accomplish too much with too little. We work as a behind-the-scenes eLearning partner to help you deliver cost- and mission-effective eLearning products to your staff. Our courses bring the best training experiences to busy professionals in their home, work or anywhere they can connect to the internet.

Our learning products are designed to address three important learning theories/models: Howard Gardner's Multiple Intelligences Theory; Constructivist Learning Theory; and Bloom's Taxonomy Model.

All of our eLearning products are delivered through a NexGen Collaborative Learning Environment®, that incorporates social networks, facilitated peer learning opportunities, groups, resource sharing, formal eLearning courses, webinars, reputation points, peer matching and other effective tools to facilitate outstanding peer-to-peer learning that:

- Spreads information through formal or informal social networks;
- Involves many-way communication;
- Recognizes that every participant can be a teacher and a learner;
- Is community- and participant-driven; and
- Occurs through many levels and communication vehicles.

The Assistant Manager (TAM) is a complete retail technology designed for non-profits and others that will benefit your organization and each of its visitors.

TAM provides what a non-profit retail solution should provide:

- Aids in critical and day to day business decisions through timely and accurate information
- Improves each visitor's and/or member's experience
- Increases membership enrollment as well as overall visitor loyalty
- Controls inventory in both merchandise and food services
- Reduces loss through secure cash controls
- Reduces the cost of operations through elimination of repetitive labor
- Promotes increased fund raising through better donation management
- Improves the bottom line for all profit centers

TAM is a proven solution that prominent members of your industry have relied on for decades.

The TAM community includes a wide range of organizations like yours. These non-profits range in size from institutions that see tens of thousands of visitors per year up to millions per year. Non-profit organizations using TAM include many prominent art, science and history museums, zoos and aquariums, children's museums, botanical gardens and wild life parks, public parks and lands, and more.

These non-profits have been counting on TAM and its benefits since 1980, making it the industry's most reliable and trusted solution available today.
